SUMMARY

Enthusiastic problem solver with experience working with other developers and external services to produce highly integrated solutions. Well experienced with version control and using the right tool for the job. Has also built several full-stack and front-end applications using Node.js, React, Express.js, MongoDB, and Tone.js. Continues to learn new skills and technologies independent from work such as self-hosting a variety of applications via a K3s Raspberry PI cluster or configuring an EdgeRouter X to create and secure separate networks for specific purposes (e.g. IoT).
